DETAILED ACTION

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 34-46 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 4, 5, 8, and 16 of U.S. Patent No. 6,703,474. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the polyester resin made by the claimed process does not have any features that distinguish it from resins made without antimony nor the resins of the cited patent which discloses resins made by essentially the same the same process.

3. Claims 34-46 is rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-21 and 1-15 of U.S. Patent No. 6,500,915 and 6,667,383, respectively. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the product-by-process resin herein does not have characteristics that clearly distinguish it from those of the cited prior arts.
